Made by hand.

Meant to be used.

If anything comes up, just send me a message on Nostr.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR BOARD

Oak end-grain cutting board

USE IT

Wash by hand with warm water and a little dish soap.

Never leave it soaking in water and never put it in the dishwasher.

Wipe it dry after washing and let it finish drying on its edge so air can reach both sides.

Avoid leaving it wet on a flat surface or close to strong heat.

Use it. Cut on it. Let it pick up a few marks along the way.

That's what it was made for.

CARE FOR IT

When the wood starts looking dry or dull, rub in a thin layer of the included wax blend.

Let it sit for about 10-15 minutes, then buff the surface well with the cloth.

A little goes a long way. You only need a thin coat.

The finish included with your board is a simple blend of paraffin and pure beeswax.

The beeswax in this finish comes from my uncle's hives and is only lightly processed, so you may notice an occasional tiny natural speck in the jar.

Wood naturally reacts to moisture and changes in temperature. A little movement over time is normal.